
Forensic Accounting

We live in a litigious world. Companies and individuals are increasingly liable to become involved in legal action either as claimant or defendant.

The expansion of regulation into new areas increases the likelihood of becoming involved. The incidence of fraud has risen and criminals have become more sophisticated in their methods of defrauding businesses and individuals.

Disputes become more complex and the damages awarded continue to increase.

You need to resolve your disputes quickly and with the best outcome.

Our first class forensic services meet the needs of those who instruct experts.

We have undertaken in excess of 1,500 cases many of which were high profile. Click here to see a selection of cases.

Our Principals act as Expert Witness or adviser, including as a single joint expert, in personal or corporate disputes. They are supported by a dedicated team of forensic accounting specialists and other experts from within the firm as required.

Full use is made of the latest technology including data interrogation software.

We are experienced in giving evidence in Court for civil and criminals matters, in arbitration proceedings and in regulatory tribunals. We are also experienced in providing Expert Determinations through the President of the ICAEW's Appointment Scheme and assisting in Alternative Dispute Resolution procedures.
